

APPENDIX B

VOCATIONAL WORKSHEET

July 17, 2007

NAME: Gregory Anderson

AGE: 2.11 years

DOB: July 30, 2004

DOA: July 30, 2004

ANTICIPATED LENGTH OF REHABILITATION PROGRAM

Greg should be involved in an extensive habilitation program throughout his developmental years (through age 21), and it is anticipated that he will require total care through life expectancy.

VOCATIONAL HANDICAPS

Profuse neurological damage has left Greg with severe restrictions, limitations, and deficits in every sphere including cognitive and motoric. I anticipate he will be dependent upon caregivers for all of his daily needs throughout his life expectancy.

IMPACT ON PLACEMENT AND RANGE OF JOB ALTERNATIVES

Severe. Greg's physical and cognitive limitations prevent placement in the labor market and virtually eliminate any and all job alternatives.

REHABILITATION PLAN

See Life Care Plan.

VOCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT OPTIONS
PRE-ONSET

Based on the data collected with respect to his family's vocational and educational history, it is within reasonable rehabilitation probability to assume that Greg would have completed high school and continued his education by attending college and earning at least a Bachelor's Degree.

VOCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT OPTIONS
POST-ONSET

Not applicable. No options are available post-onset.

PRE-ACCIDENT VOCATIONAL ALTERNATIVES
BY OPTION

Average earnings in the United States for Caucasian males between the ages of 18 to 24, who worked full-time, with a Bachelor's Degree are $32,171.

Wage data represents average starting wages, which should grow consistent with all individuals with similar educational development.

POST-ACCIDENT VOCATIONAL ALTERNATIVES
BY OPTION

Greg's physical and mental handicaps prevent him from being a candidate for gainful employment. Therefore, a total loss of earning capacity is anticipated.
